Meet an endearing sibling set of three – Abraham, Josephine and Benjamin who are in need of an adoptive family. These three are a highly engaged group that has a sense of adventure and drawn to experience new things.

We met up at the Aquarium of the Pacific in Long Beach, CA for a structured lesson on marine life. There were fossils of sea life and of course, some dialogue with Lola, the Cockatiel. Most importantly, these brothers and sister got to spend happy time with each other.

Abraham (2010) is a talkative little boy with a huge contagious smile. Abraham enjoys playing with his action figures, watching cartoons, and playing soccer at the park. Abraham expresses himself well and loves to learn new things. Unfortunately, Abraham lives separately from his siblings and really enjoys every moment of their visits. Our endeavor is to reunite this trio.

Josephine (2012) who also goes by “Jo Jo” or simply “Jo” is very friendly and talkative. Jo enjoys playing with other children her age and is a wonderful big sister to Ben. Jo Jo is also very expressive and knows her alphabets, number 1-20 and colors.

Benjamin (2014), who goes by Ben is placed with Josephine. Ben’s vocabulary continues to grow and he’s beginning to speak in simple sentences. Ben loves toy cars and is especially attached to his sister. Jo Jo is Ben’s role model, so it’s natural that he mimics whatever she does.
