

Write for L.A. Youth

L.A. Youth, the only Los Angeles newspaper by and about teens, is looking for foster youth in Los Angeles County to join our staff. Write an article about your life and get published.

- Do you like to write or draw?
 - Are you 13 to 20?
 - Want to share your experiences in foster care with other teens?
- Then L.A. Youth is for you.

By joining L.A. Youth, you can:

- ★ earn $50 for each story published
- ★ improve your writing skills
- ★ help other foster youth by sharing your experiences
- ★ inform the public about “the system”

Want to know more about writing for L.A. Youth?

Contact Editor Amanda Riddle

(323) 938-9194

or ariddle@layouth.com

or go to www.layouth.com/9_0.htm

Foster Youth Editor Amanda Riddle and a staff writer discuss his article at the L.A. Youth office at 5967 W. Third St. in Los Angeles near La Brea and Third.

